The Art of Business Pitches

Students will work with a professional organization on a remote project. The employer will provide information and the prompt for the project; students will work in small groups throughout the semester as they compile research and develop their pitch, presenting their final pitch to the employer. Course discussions will guide students through their research process while focusing on strategies of successful business pitches. While the employer and project are still being finalized, it is likely to be with a sport & entertainment agency.

Although concurrent (or prior) enrollment in Chem 210 is an advisory, rather than enforced, pre/co-requisite, it is EXTREMELY STRONGLY RECOMMENDED. The topic of stereochemistry is prominent in Chem 211, and the class will be very challenging for students who are not currently (or have not previously) taken Chem 210.

This class will be held virtually either on Zoom or another online format.

Drawing upon Limon principles, we will use the barre in finding our sense of weight and suspension. We will take our barre work into space for full bodied movement that can be accomplished in small spaces. Utilizing ideas from barre and center, readings, writing and peer feedback, each student will craft a movement solo as a final project.

*Note: Chair, wall or other sturdy items will suffice for a barre.

	Healing Dance Sessions Course Description:

We will sing, we will dance, we will make our own music, and beat our own drums utilizing common household items that are often overlooked. Together we will share our voices, ideas, and dances we create as we offer them to the community we cultivate together during this five-week session. Healing Dance Sessions is a course that brings the intention and concept of ritual into multiple contexts to embrace student points of view. This online improvisational dance class is designed to get us up and moving while we cultivate healing movement that can be comforting during troubling times. The purpose of this course is to provide students with the essential tools that can be useful in creating safe dance spaces inside our homes as we figure out how to move through the unknown and unpredictable.
